COMMITTEE OUTLINES TENTATIVE BOUNDARIES FOR CITY OF CAMPBELL AT TUESDAY MEETING

PRODUCTION MAY START JULY 25 AT HUNT PLANT

Elvan A. Hansell, plant manager of the Hunt cannery in Campbell, stated this week that canning operations are expected to begin on July 25. He said that the cannery expects a considerably larger season than last year's. At peak production, the company expects to have their full complement of 900 employees.

The Hunt cannery has added cooking room facilities to enable them to reach a higher production peak. This year, in addition to their regular commercial packing, the cannery will be engaged in filling a sizeable number of government orders. Two shifts will be run this year, the first starting at 7 a.m. and the second at 7 p.m. George Hartwell is assistant superintendent in charge of the day shift, and Joseph C. Silva is assistant superintendent in charge of the night shift.

Hansell stated that if the fruit is available, he expects the season to last through the middle of October.

Bulk of the packing done at the local plant will consist of fruit for salads, fruit cocktail, peaches and pears.

DAVID T. GILMORE SPEAKS BEFORE KIWANIS CLUB

David T. Gilmore, former rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Los Gatos, told members of the Kiwanis Club of his experiences as an army and national guard chaplain for more than 30 years.

Gilmore, speaking before the Tuesday noon meeting of the Campbell group, related some of his experiences in the front line trenches in World War I. During the second world war, Gilmore was Post Chaplain at San Luis Obispo where he had six chaplains working under him. Gilmore told the group that they trained a division about every 20 days at the San Luis camp.

Gilmore has been a minister of the Episcopal Church for 45 years, during which time he has made the national guard his hobby.

The meeting was presided over by president Fred Jones, Program chairman was D. H. Cramer.

Assemblyman Charles Gubser of this district will speak before the club at next week's meeting. He will talk on pending state legislation affecting Campbell and will dwell particularly on the state assembly and senate bills regarding urban unincorporated areas.

School For Blind Children Will Be Started In Campbell This Fall

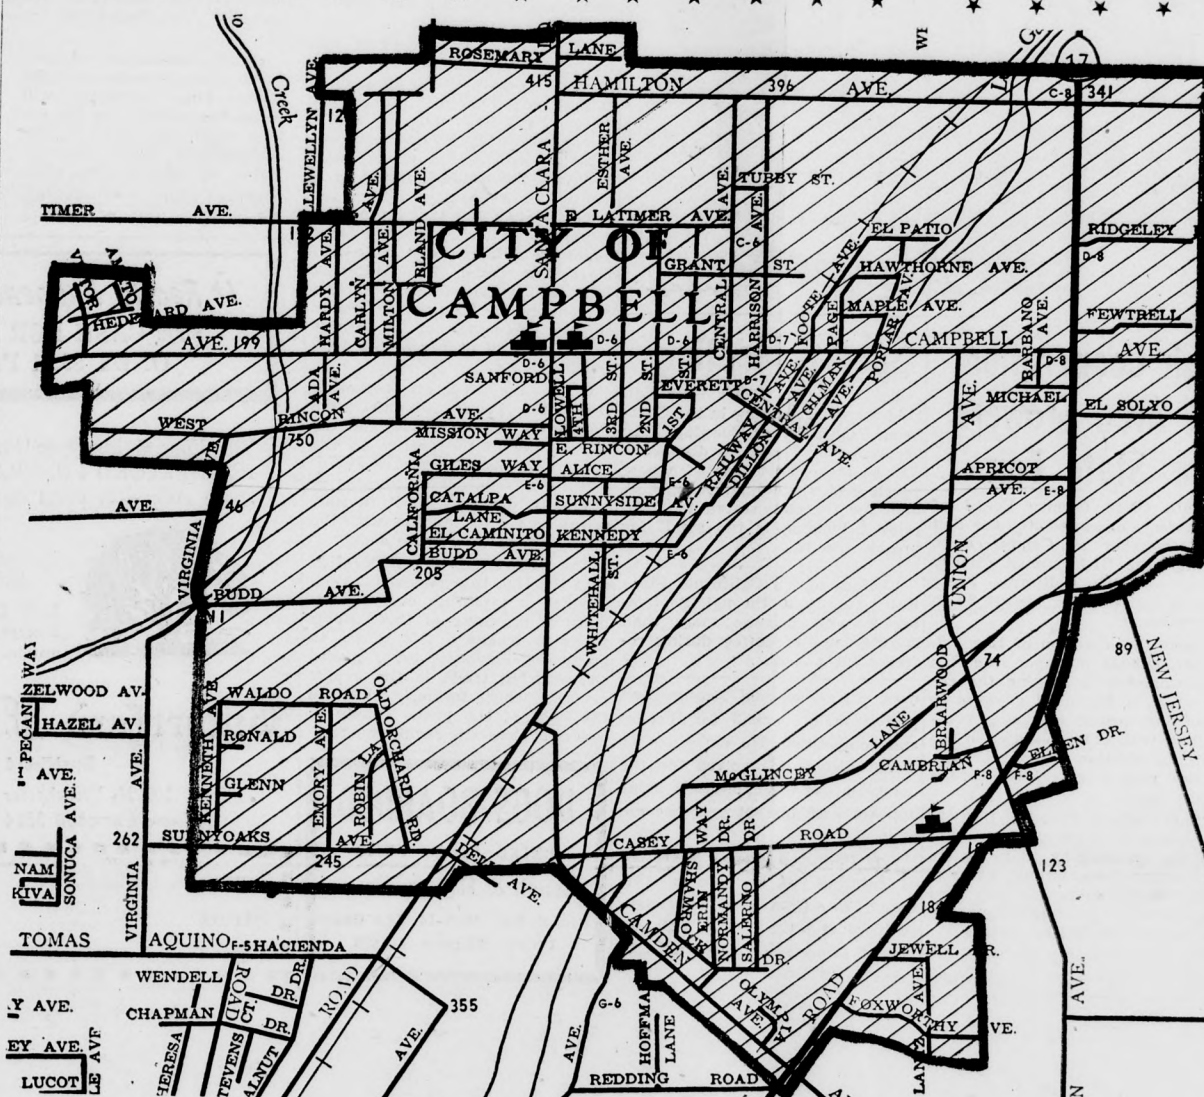

Preparations are now being made in Campbell for the formation of a school for the county's visually handicapped children. The school, first of its kind in the area, will be located in the Campbell grammar school. Campbell was chosen as the site of the school by an informal committee of parents working through the county superintendent. The program, still in the formative stage, is intended to provide instruction for a maximum of twelve children.

Letters have been sent to the parents of visually handicapped children throughout the country so that the directors of the program may compile case histories of the students and prepare the class.

The school will be under the direction of Mrs. Florence Gilmore. Mrs. Gilmore is experienced in instructing the visually handicapped and has taken special training in Washington State college and San Francisco State college.

Children will be selected for the school by a special committee of local and county school authorities. The method for determining the eligibility of the children has not yet been decided upon.

The school, financed by state aid, will offer instruction in braille and the use of the typewriter in

The tentative boundaries of the city of Campbell, as shown above, would include approximately 10,000 persons and would cover an area of four and one-half square miles with an estimated assessed valuation of more than $6,000,000. In comparison to the city of Los Gatos, which has a population of less than 5,000 and an area of one and one-half square miles, Campbell would contain twice the number of inhabitants and would cover three times the area.

YOUTH CLUB SLAMS CAMPBELL HARDWARE IN TUESDAY BATTLE

The Cupertino Youth Club copped a thriller from the Campbell Hardware nine 12-10 in the opener of the second half of the Junior League last Tuesday night.

Campbell started the game rolling. Bahn hit a two-bagger with the bases loaded and brought in Ohmetti, Foglia, and Gregg for the first score of the game.

In the upper half of the first frame, Cerrasco scored for the Cupertino boys to make it 1-3. Blanking the locals in the second, the Cupertinoans scored 2 when Ito brought in Hatfield and Carter on a triple to tie the score at 3 all.

Manzoni scored for the Campbells in the third as the locals surged ahead 4-3. Cupertino bounced back in the same inning to tie it up again when Hatfield crossed the plate for the Youth Club.

Holding their opponents to nothing in the fourth, the Hardware boys went ahead when Foglia, Manzoni, Johnson and Brown all scored.

It looked like that was all for the YC's when the locals scored another 2 in the last to bring the score up to 10-3 when Hoehn and Brown scored again.

With hope dimming, Jones of the YC's got on a pitched ball. Martinez advanced him with a safe 1 bagger. Montajo got on a fielder's error when Hatfield forced in the first run when he was hit by a pitched ball. From then on the Cupertino's brought in 7 more to take the game by a final 12-11.

NEW FIREHOUSE DEDICATED AT SUNDAY AFTERNOON CEREMONIES

Approximately 100 persons attended the formal dedication of the new Campbell firehouse on Central Avenue last Sunday afternoon. Justice of the Peace Martin S. Walsh gave the main address of the afternoon.

After a few introductory remarks, Fire Chief Jack Scott, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced the speakers: Fire Commissioners E. C. Merrill, E. E. Lanphear, and Fred Jones Sr., Deputy State Fire Marshal Robert Carel then said a few words about the new building.

Martin S. Walsh then praised the members of the fire department for their fine work and stated that he hoped the new firehouse would remain as a symbol of security, protection, readiness and defense against destruction by fire.

The firehouse was recently completed by W. J. Nicholson Co., contractor. It houses pumping units and was designed to provide extra room for the increase of equipment when necessary.

Following is the text of Judge Walsh's address:

"Chief Scott, Fire Commissioners of Campbell Fire District, members of Campbell Volunteer Fire Department, friends and neighbors.

We are assembled here today to commemorate the fulfillment of another accomplishment in the progress of the Campbell community and the Campbell Volunteer Fire Department.

This splendid building which houses the equipment of our fine fire department is an outstanding example of the excellent work that has been done, and is being done by the ever ready and willing members of the Campbell fire fighters. These volunteers who are minute men in our community, giving of their time and energy to protect our lives and our property and who are always ready upon a moment's notice to dash forth from this building to render whatever aid and assistance necessary for the preservation of our possessions, it is to them and to Campbell on this

Two Local Girls Complete Navy Recruit Training

Two Campbell girls, Aileen L. Windell, daughter of Harry C. Windell of 184 Milton Avenue, and Donna R. Pruess, daughter of Frederick E. Pruess, of Box 423 Lora Drive, have completed their recruit training for the Waves at Great Lakes, Illinois, and have been assigned to one of the Navy's training schools for further training and duty.

Aileen Windell graduated from the Wave recruit training school on July 9 and has been assigned to Airman School at Jacksonville, Florida.

Proposed City Area Would Have Estimated Population Of 10,000

Tentative boundaries for the city limits of the city of Campbell were drawn up by members of the boundary committee of the committee for Campbell Incorporation at a meeting last Tuesday evening at 7 p.m.

The tentative boundaries include an area encompassing all of Campbell's special districts such as fire, sanitation and lighting. The

MERCHANDISE IS STOLEN FROM CAMPBELL STORE

The Campbell Hardware was entered and robbed of merchandise totalling approximately $250 on Wednesday night. Among the missing items were two rifles and various hunting equipment including shells and hunting knives.

The thief, or thieves, left the building by the back door by removing the door bar. Constable Lanphear could find no signs of entering the building, however. The time of the robbery was placed some time after 6 p.m.

Campbell Coaches Learn Aquatic Course In Idaho

Three members of the Campbell High School physical education staff, Bert Robinson, Jim Muir, and Jr. Morgan, recently returned from the Red Cross National Aquatic School held at Twin Echoes, Idaho.

During their ten-day instruction period, the three faculty members studied the Red Cross method of life saving, first aid and methods of teaching swimming. Muir and Morgan studied community aquatic leadership as elective courses and cage coach Robinson studied pool management. All three of the coaches took courses in canoe and small boats.

The trio, who drove to the special school in Robinson's car, commented on the excellent faculty and the fine food.

The coaches will use information compiled at the special school in directing summer recreation programs and in physical education courses during the regular session of school.

Dryer May Start On August 10

L. G. Garner, manager of the Campbell Cooperative Dryer, stated this week that operations are expected to begin around August 10 when the plant starts processing prunes. Garner stated that he expected a considerable larger crop this year with the plant processing from 10,000 to 11,000 tons as against 8,000 tons last year.

The dryer expects to have a full employment of approximately 140 men after processing starts.

Will Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Will McLaren of 321 Sunny Oaks Avenue will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on August 1 with an open house for their friends from 2-5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaren came to Campbell five years ago from San Francisco where Mr. McLaren had been employed by an eastern shoe firm for more than thirty years.

The couple, both born in San Francisco, celebrated their 74th birthdays recently; Mrs. McLaren on June 18, and Mr. McLaren on December 6. Both Mr. and Mrs. McLaren lived most of their lives in San Francisco prior to Mr. McLaren's retirement.

Mrs. McLaren stated that she was happy to have reached her fiftieth anniversary and said that it had been fifty years of a very pleasant life.

proposed boundaries for the city of Campbell include approximately 10,000 persons and will cover an area of approximately four and one-half square miles. The area will have an assessed valuation in excess of $6,000,000.

The committee, under the direction of Don Reinohl, determined the boundaries after an exhaustive study to eliminate most of the farm lands of the area, to include all coded areas of the district and to give the city a maximum assessed valuation. The committee stated however, that it was impossible to cut all of the farm lands of the district from the proposed city limits because several of the ranches are within the Campbell Lighting District.

Major portions of the Campbell and Cambrian school districts will be included in the incorporated boundaries. Information from County Counsel Howard Campen however, determined that the identity of a school district which has a portion of its district within an incorporated sixth class city would not be in any way affected. Campen said, "school district boundaries would remain the same if a portion of the district lies within the city limits of a sixth class city." The incorporation committee is seeking to incorporate the area as a sixth class city.

The action of the boundary committee will enable other committees for incorporation to continue their work.

The committees, revenue and taxation, charter, finance and solicitation, law enforcement and public safety, and registration have been hampered by the lack of tentative boundaries in which to limit their work.

The formation of tentative

Rotarians Hear Talk On Air Tour

Dr. James H. Strayer, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church in San Jose, told members of the Campbell Rotary Club Monday how it feels to tour the United States by air. Strayer, who is active in Red Cross work, and has his own radio program, spoke on "Seeing the U.S.A. by Air."

Strayer told the group that one of the most unusual sensations of a prolonged air trip is the speed with which one sees different types of terrain. "For one not used to air travel, the hardest thing to become accustomed to is to be in one place and in just a few hours arrive in another location with entirely different surroundings and make up.

"One of the things which impressed me most," Strayer told the group, "was the intense racial antagonism which we found in many of the eastern cities." Strayer stated that the cities of Florida, particularly Miami, seemed to have a great amount of anti-Semitic feeling, while Philadelphia seemed to have a great deal of anti-negro sentiment.

Among the visiting Rotarians at the weekly gathering was Vice-Admiral Charles Lockwood, USN, (Ret.), who has just returned from a flying trip to Great Britain and the continent. The purpose of this trip was to participate in the British memorial services for the American service men who fell during World War II. He reported a trip full of incidents, including a forced return due to motor failure when 300 or so miles out to sea on the return journey.

The Rotary Club will hold its annual barbecue next Thursday, July 26, at La Rinconada Country Club. The program will include golf and swimming during the day followed by the barbecue in the evening. There will be no regular meeting Monday, July 23, but a round table will be held for visiting Rotarians.

Campbell Scouts Attend Mountain Camping Session

Scouts from Explorer Post 32, Campbell, were among those attending the third week of High Sierra camping for Santa Clara County Council groups. The council camp, located in the Sierra Nevada mountains near Long Barn, will serve over 500 scouts and leaders during their six weeks of operation.

Fourteen members of Scout Troop 28 have returned from a week's stay at the High Sierra camp near Long Barn recently. During their stay there, the scouts participated in hiking, swimming and fishing. Emphasis was placed on the pioneering phase of scouting with members of the troop receiving instruction in tree felling and constructing a foot bridge. The members also went on a six-mile hike during their week's outing. The scouts did advance scout work and worked on completing merit badges.

Featuring the third week's program will be a pack trip to the back country for the Explorers in camp. The older boys spend two days in camp preparing for the trip and then leave for Cherry Creek for the first night stop. The second day they will arrive at Buck Lake where a base camp has been established with A. D. Warburton, advisor of Post 77, Santa Clara, in charge.

During the past seven days the boys made day and overnight trips to mountain lakes and forests accessible only by hiking with packs or by pack animals. The group returns to the regular camp on the 19th or 20th. They will arrive back in San Jose on the 22nd of July.

While these older scouts are on their expedition, the scouts and leaders in camp will be enjoying a well-rounded program developed by the camp staff and individual unit leaders.

The general program offers swimming, campcraft, fishing, nature studies, hiking, handicraft, scout games and campfire programs. Good eats are prepared by a professional cook and served in the new dining room, completed just before the opening of the camp.

Explorers from Post 32, Campbell Post 49, Agnew and Troop 77 Explorers are taking part in the explorer expedition.

Troops 6, 16, and 48 of San Jose North District and Troop 82 of the Sunnyvale Districts are attending the regular camp during the week.

Mrs. A. Mazzone Services Held

YOU WILL EAT 50 TONS!

The average American eats three-quarters of a ton of food each year, which means, since the life expectancy of babies born today is around 68 years, each tiny "bundle from heaven" will call upon the Nation's farmers and food processors for 50 tons of nourishment in his or her lifetime.

So reports the U. S. Department of Labor in an interesting statistical report on changes in American living habits over the first half of this century.

HEARTY U. S. APPETITES

While changes in eating habits have been many and varied over the half century, the per capita food consumption, in quantity, has remained almost constant, according to this report. In 1909, U.S. citizens ate 1,572 pounds each. In 1948, the rate was 1,581—a variation of only 9 pounds.

This closeness in the weight average is rather odd, considering what might be called appetite trends. The diet of the American of 1909, for instance, included 179 pounds of potatoes; in 1948, potato consumption per individual was down to 100 pounds. Grain products, including bread, flour, meal, breakfast foods, and rice, dropped to 171 pounds in the American diet of 1948 from the 291 pound average of 1909.

TREND AWAY FROM STARCH

Those "weight losses" have been made up, these researchers discovered, by a steady increase in the consumption of dairy products, fruits, and vegetables. Also, it appears, the public taste has come to favor more poultry and pork than in the old days, and less beef. And Americans eat much more salad nowadays—and make room for it by cutting down on beef pie.

DIET AND HEALTH

According to the comparatively modern science of dietetics—with its stresses upon a correct daily balance among proteins, carbohydrates, and other food basics; and its discoveries in the relation of vitamins, amino acids, and the like to bodily health—Americans are eating far better than they used to, even if they do not eat any more than they did of old.

At this point, however, we risk venturing into a most uncertain field. It is happily true that U. S. longevity has increased amazingly since the turn of the century. A boy born in 1900 could hope for 48 years of life—and thereby expect to eat, at three-quarters of a ton per year—considerably less food than a baby of 1950 with his life expectancy of 68 years. But many factors besides diet enter into the longevity picture—great victories of medical and surgical science in conquering once dangerous diseases and in at least mitigating the effects of ailments that are still dangerous.

Regardless of how people's food habits change, an industry that must produce nearly 115 million tons of food annually for its own people, and must increase that production by 15 million tons each year to care for normal population growth, is of first importance to America and must be kept on a sound financial basis if the Nation is to prosper.

Antonio Giacalone Killed In Fall

Antonino Giacalone, 63, building contractor, father of Mrs. Bernice Verone of Campbell, was killed on Saturday, July 7 in Morgan Hill when a scaffold on which he was working, at the William Battaglia Ranch, collapsed. Giacalone was a native of Italy and had lived in San Jose for 45 years.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Jennie Giacalone; sons and daughters, Dr. Anthony J. Giacalone of San Jose, Mrs. Josephine Cornello Jr. of San Jose, Mrs. Lena Schwab of San Leandro, Joseph Giacalone of Burlingame, Mrs. Bernice Verone of Burlingame. He was the brother of Andrea Giacalone of San Francisco. In addition, he leaves 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, July 10, in San Jose, followed by requiem high mass at Holy Family Church. Interment was at Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

Ask Cooperation Of Area Growers For State Fair

Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors has appointed the San Jose Chamber of Commerce to manage the fifth annual County Exhibit at the California State Fair in Sacramento, August 30 to September 9.

Under the direction of Lloyd S. Weber, exhibit manager, the San Jose Chamber is seeking the cooperation of Campbell growers to enter their prized produce in competition with other counties in the State in addition to having their entries placed on exhibit in the county booth.

"Santa Clara County, 18th in the nation in farm wealth, again has the opportunity to prove its agricultural fame through this exhibit," Weber said, "but only thru cooperation of growers throughout the county can this be possible."

25 Percent Of '51 Prune Crop Asked For Surplus Use

The Prune Administrative Committee has recommended to the Secretary of Agriculture that 25 percent of the 1951 prune production be set aside as surplus, according to information received today from R. A. McArthur, committee chairman and prune grower at Cupertino. This recommendation was made at a meeting on July 12 following the committee's determination that the 1951 prune crop will yield a supply that will exceed the estimated demand in existing marketing outlets for the 1951-52 crop year.

"Withholding 25 percent of the crop from the market will leave an ample supply to fill all known market requirements," McArthur stated, "and balancing the available supply with the presently estimated demand for prunes will maintain the prune industry in a healthy marketing condition of price stability. For that reason the committee requested the secretary, under the authority of the Federal Marketing Order for California Dried Prunes, to establish a salable percentage of 75 percent and a surplus percentage of 25 percent to apply to all prunes of the 1951 crop."

Under the Federal Marketing Order the Prune Administrative Committee is responsible for the withholding of the portion of the prune crop declared by the Secretary of Agriculture as surplus in any year, disposing of it in such a way as not to interfere with the marketing of the salable supply.

The committee, in collaboration with the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is exploring every possibility of disposing of this surplus so as to realize a fair return to producers, emphasis being placed on restoring trade in the export markets which formerly absorbed the bulk of the prune supply in excess of domestic requirements.

YOUNG MET STAR IS GUEST SOLOIST AT S. F. OPENING

Lucine Amara, one of San Francisco's most promising young divas, will be guest soloist with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Arthur Fiedler at the opening concert of the San Francisco Art Commission's Mid-Summer Music Festival at the Civic Auditorium tonight.

Now under contract to the Metropolitan, Miss Amara's rise in the musical world has been meteoric. A dramatic soprano, she will sing the aria "Vini T'Affretta" from "Macbeth" and "Balletella" from "Pagliacci" on Wednesday evening.

Guest conductor Arthur Fiedler, famed conductor of the Boston Pops Symphony, will be on the podium for the entire eight concerts of the Mid-Summer Music Festival. Dates of the concerts after opening night—Wednesday, July 18, are July 21, 25 and 28, and August 1, 14, 18 and 28.

The full San Francisco Symphony Orchestra will play at each performance and guest soloists will be nationally-known San Francisco artists, including Randolph Hokanson, pianist; Ludwig Altman, organist; Norman Carol, violinist, and Leonard Joffe, violinist.

In addition to the musical attractions, concert-goers at the Mid-Summer Music Festival will find the Civic Auditorium transformed in to a huge "music hall"—with main floor tables, candles and refreshments and wall decorations. This will be the first time that the Art Commission has sponsored a "pop concert" series in the traditional manner so popular in Europe and in the eastern and mid-western cities of the United States.

Tickets for the Music Festival are now on sale at Sherman Clay Symphony Box Office, 165 Kearney Street, San Francisco.

The Junior Chamber B leaguers dumped the Junior Odd Fellows, 12-11 in the opening round of the second half of the softball league last Monday night on the local diamond. Despite a last minute bid by the Odd Fellows in the last frame, the Jr. Chamber boys managed to eke out a close win.

On the short end of a 12-7 score in the last frame, the Odd Fellows made a strong bid to recover the game by scoring four more runs to bring the totals up to 12-11.

The Junior Chamber started off with a bang in the first frame with Ambler scoring the first tally. Not to be outdone, the Odd Fellows jumped back to take the lead with three runs as Brown, Shumway and Gilpatrick all loped into the home plate.

Fired up by the insult, the Jr. Chamber bounced back with five more in the second, and two in the next frame. Held scoreless in the third, the Odd Fellows tried to do it up right by scoring four more in the fourth to bring themselves up to the short end of a 7-8 score.

Held blank in the next two while their opponents scored another two in the fifth and two more in the last, the Odd Fellows tried to make a comeback with four tallies in the last frame as Brown, Zimmerman, Propst, and Young all made tallies for their team.

Telephone service is always homemade, in and for each community we serve. Here a cable goes into service.

MORE HOME-TOWN SERVICE FOR WEST'S HOME TOWNS

We're putting many millions more into telephone facilities this year

1. All across the West, in the country and in the cities, telephone people are still hard at it expanding and improving the telephone system. For our population continues to grow. The demand for new telephone service goes right on... in spite of our having doubled the number of telephones in use in the past ten years. And doubling the amount of money invested in the telephone business in just five years.

3. It's taken a tremendous investment to build to serve the million and a half new telephones we've added since 1945. And, building as we have in the face of inflated costs, the equipment to serve a new telephone has averaged about $400. Before 1940, the average was about $250. Yet rates are up far less than our costs of providing service... on the average less than half as much as the cost of living. Your telephone is one of your budget's best friends.

2. New facilities, installed in just the past five years have increased our plant $660,000,000, the largest expansion program ever executed by any public utility operating company. Again in 1951, we'll put many millions of investors' money into the West. Much of the material we will use will be purchased in the West's towns and cities. Certainly most of them will benefit from the program's jobs and payrolls.

Polio Cases May Pass 1950 Mark

W. E. Turner, director of public health for Santa Clara County, stated this week that the rate of polio cases throughout the county will exceed that of last year if the present trend continues. Cases to date in the county for 1951 have reached 22 compared with 4 cases last year. One case of polio was reported in the Campbell area during the month of June.

Turner stated however, that he was not sure whether the present increase in the number of cases was due to an early peak in the season. Normally, the peak season for polio is in the latter part of the summer.

During the last 15 years, polio cases throughout the county have reached epidemic proportions in five of the years: 1939, 1943, 1949 and 1950. Heaviest year was 1943.

Turner cautioned parents from allowing children to become too exhausted from play during the summer and said that the best method of preventing the disease is by keeping in good physical condition.

Some of the symptoms include a stiffness of the back muscles, headaches, fever and general symptoms of a bad cold.

The Boiling Point A SHORT-SHORT STORY By VERA TARPLEY

"WE HAVE to live in your mother's home for the next two years, I won't be responsible for what happens to our marriage!" Almost immediately Linda regretted making such an open-faced threat.

Bert smiled at his pretty wife a little sadly. He was getting used to ultimatums. "Don't you think you're getting just a little dramatic about the whole thing? It isn't a perfect solution, I know that, but it seems to be the only one at hand right now. If we persist in eating while I finish medical school, we're going to have to take advantage of Mother's generosity."

Bert didn't shut his eyes for several hours after they had gone to bed that night.

"Generosity!" her eyes flashed. "Bert, when I married you, you were a mama's boy and you admitted it. It wasn't easy for me—watching you run to her for advice about our personal affairs. But I held on tight until you snapped out of it—and I was wonderfully grateful, darling." She nestled comfortably on his lap and began rumpling his hair. "I only want you to stand on your own two feet, is that too much to ask?"

Bert didn't shut his eyes for several hours after they had gone to bed that night. What can a man think of himself when he has to face the stark fact that he can't provide for his wife and child?

And there was Mother Bradley, alone in a large, comfortable house. She was confused and hurt when he had tried to explain why Linda refused to accept her offer of a home until Bert was through school.

"But it would solve everything, Bert," she had said that afternoon. "I never have liked rattling around in this big house by myself. You look terribly tired, dear. Medical school is hard enough without worrying yourself to death about money matters. Besides, it was all Linda's idea in the first place that you should go back to school."

"And Bert, tell Linda she can be certain I wouldn't think of meddling in your affairs. Of course, she'll have to do her share of the housework."

"Just how will you two manage that, Mother? I mean, there are bound to be differences coming up, and—"

"Well naturally, Bert, it's still my home. I know Linda is very capable and efficient. She's made that clear on a number of occasions, but you couldn't expect me to let a young girl lord it over me in my own home, now could you?"

"Why doesn't she ever let me see Bobby? There must be dozens of times when she goes shopping when she could leave him with me. I'd be glad to take care of him—I'm his grandmother—and she leaves him with neighbors or strangers, while I—"

Bert couldn't bear to hear her sobbing again. He muttered a few words, kissed her, and left. He was going to make Linda come around—that is, she'd see things his way—they couldn't all go on being miserable. But he had gone home only to meet Linda's ultimatum, an ultimatum for the sake of their marriage...

At last he had made a decision: his own decision. Early the next evening instead of asking, he informed Linda that they were going over to visit his mother.

"I want you both to hear what I've decided to do, and before I tell you, you might as well know, Linda, that this wasn't Mother's idea, and Mother, it wasn't Linda's. I'm quitting school and going back to work at the chemical laboratory."

He paused a second to let it sink in. Before they could verbalize their amazement he went on.

"I don't like to hurt either of you, but it's time we understand each other before I end up in a psychiatrist's office. You've both accused each other of 'dominating' me so often that I finally realized you're both probably right. You have the best intentions, and I love you for it, but you can't go on tugging at me from opposite sides and expect to have anything faintly resembling a man when you get through."

Linda was furious. "Bert, you could at least have had the decency to talk this over with me—alone!" Mrs. Bradley was hurt. "Your mother doesn't mean much to you anymore, does she, Bert?"

"You've hit the nail on the head! You mean everything to me—as my mother, so stop thinking Linda has taken your place. And Linda, darling, I think perhaps you have been trying to take mother's place—I should think being my wife is a tough enough job. It's obvious I couldn't survive in this house with two mothers or two wives. I can't afford to go on with school, so I'm going to work. It's as simple as that. I should have done it long ago."

Bert decided to finish out the week at school in order to get his last allotment check. Linda was strangely quiet about his decision, and yet he couldn't detect the resentment he thought she must feel. Then one evening she quietly informed him that they were going to visit his mother again.

"We've figured it all out—the two of us. You won't have to quit school after all." Mrs. Bradley was bubbling all over.

"Yes, darling!" Linda chimed in. "You see we'd rather dominate you together than not at all, so we joined forces!" She laughed and gave him a discomfiting poke in the ribs.

"Hey, what is this, an ambush?" Bert could hardly believe it was the same two women as a few nights ago.

"Simply this, knucklehead. I'm going to work and you're going right on with school. Did you think we'd let you play hooky, did you really?" Linda was in one of her rare moods again—the kind that made Bert congratulate himself for finding her.

American Business Behind The Scenes

By Reynolds Knight

As the midyear point of 1951 passed, America's businessmen faced a paradox. Those industries tied in with defense work are booming, troubled only by material shortages and red tape that slow them down, while businesses and merchants dealing primarily with the consumer are, by and large, concerned over too-high inventories and a slowdown in consumer buying.

Employment is rapidly nearing an all-time high, and spendable income is higher than ever, but credit curbs have hit hard at sellers of consumer durable goods. Food and clothing prices were generally higher in the first six months, despite the wave of price cutting that broke out in May and June. Savings are on the rise, reflecting the slowdown in buying, and insurance policy ownership has hit a new high.

Prices—the big concern of the consumer—are wavering at both retail and wholesale levels, but show little likelihood of dropping to pre-Korean levels. Sporadic price wars have resulted in drastic cuts on many items, but the overall pattern holds high. Weakening prices for many raw materials have been noted, but this does not necessarily mean lower costs to the consumer.

A prime example of this is seen in tire prices. The government recently cut its price of crude rubber to manufacturers from 66 cents to 52 cents a pound, and many persons thought there would be a time and legal holidays in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract.

Notice is also hereby given bidders that it shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon all subcontractors under him to pay not less than said general prevailing rates of per diem wages, as above listed, to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed in the execution of the contract.

Before submitting proposals, the bidders shall be licensed in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 9, Division III, of the Business and Professions Code, Chapter 37 of the Statutes of 1939, as amended, of the State of California, which provides for the registration and licensing of contractors.

Each bidder must submit with his proposal a statement of his financial responsibility, technical ability and experience on the form to be furnished prospective bidders, and a statement as to whether the bidder is an individual, a partnership, a joint venture, or a corporation.

Each bidder shall submit with his bid, on the form provided, the name and address of each subcontractor, including the principal suppliers of materials, and the portion of the work which each subcontractor will do. If the contract fails to name the subcontractors in his proposal, he shall be deemed to have agreed to perform such portion of the work himself and shall not be permitted to subcontract said portion of work without previous written permission of the Sanitation District Board.

ALL PROPOSALS or BIDS must be delivered to the undersigned Secretary of said District Board at its office, to-wit, the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Santa Clara County, Court House, San Jose, California, on the 25th day of July, 1951, up to the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M., on which day at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M., in said office of said District Board, said PROPOSALS or BIDS shall be publicly opened, examined and declared, and each PROPOSAL or BID must be accompanied by a check certified without qualification by a responsible bank, payable to said Sanitation District, for an amount not less than ten per cent (10%) of the aggregate of the proposal or by a bond, for said amount and so payable signed by the Bidder and two Sureties, all as prescribed by law.

The District Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive informality or irregularity in any bid.

BY ORDER OF THE DISTRICT BOARD OF County Sanitation District No. 4 of Santa Clara County.
Dated: July 11, 1951.

RICHARD OLSON
Secretary of the District Board of County Sanitation District No. 4 of Santa Clara County, California.

PASSED AND ADOPTED by the District Board of County Sanitation District No. 4 of Santa Clara County, California, this 11th day of July, 1951, by the following vote:

AYES: Directors, DeSelle, McKinnon, Wright, Wood, Campbell.
NOES: Directors, None.
ABSENT: Directors, None.

corresponding cut in tire prices.

The B. F. Goodrich Company promptly clarified the situation in a letter to its dealers, explaining that lower tire prices are not in prospect because the government action merely cancels out a recent five percent tire price increase that had been authorized by the Office of Price Stabilization but passed up by manufacturers. The Akron rubber firm pointed out that, although OPS approved an increase in tire prices after surveying cost and price data, it, as well as other manufacturers, agreed to forego the raise and hold the price line.

In November, 1950, when the present BFG tire prices were established, crude rubber cost about 53 cents a pound. Then the market price moved to a 25-year record high, before settling down to 66 cents a pound, which the government designated as official selling price when it took over exclusive marketing of rubber in this country. Tire prices have remained stable since November although the government has substantially increased its selling price of American rubber. B. F. Goodrich explains that, because nearly two-thirds of all rubber used in tires and practically all rubber used in inner tubes is American rubber, not crude from the Far East, the price of American rubber actually has far more effect on most tire costs than the price of crude. In view of all these facts, the company said there is no sound basis for a tire price reduction at this time and none is anticipated until further significant decreases in major costs occur.

THINGS TO COME—A long-awaited boon for the amateur gardener is a new gadget that converts the hand lawn mower into a power mower in a matter of minutes. . . . And, for the gardener's "better half," a New Jersey firm is producing a kit of equipment and instructions for making attractive floral arrangements. It also includes materials for maintaining the appearance of cut flowers. . . . Cabinet door knobs and pulls made out of wood with a simulated metal finish are said to retain their luster and finish under severe usage. . . . To cut oil consumption in that old car, a new piston sealing product has been introduced. Maker says it has the same lubricating value as graphite, and restores compression as well as saving oil.

UNUSUAL CONTRACT — One of the most unusual contracts with the government was recently signed by industrialist-flyer Howard Hughes. It concerns the Hughes Flying Boat, largest airplane in the world, and rumored to be the prototype for the first airplane to be powered by an atomic engine. While most government contracts are agreements for the government to pay out money for services rendered, in this case Howard Hughes has agreed to pay all expenses for a lengthy test program which will provide U. S. aviation with hitherto unavailable data on super-size aircraft. He has already spent nearly $19,000,000 of his own money on the project (more than the government has spent on it), and is currently spending about $300,000 of his own money each month readying the Hughes Flying Boat for water and flight tests which will cost more millions. The government, which will retain full ownership of the huge plane, is assured of the personal attention of one of the world's outstanding aeronautical experts during the work because the new contract specifies that "Howard R. Hughes shall, because of his peculiar qualifications, be in charge of this project."

BITS O' BUSINESS — Production of margarine is expected to top 1,000,000,000 pounds this year. That would be at least 10 percent higher than 1950 and three times prewar figures. . . . The downward trend in farm prices, which began four months ago, continued in the month ended June 15. Agricultural Department said prices received by farmers in that month averaged one percent lower than the previous month. . . . United States population figures passed 154,000,000 this month, and may reach 155,000,000 by the year's end, according to the Census Bureau. . . . The price war is still a factor, albeit a diminishing one, in

Rabbit Federation Hears Talk On Modernization

Prof. Arthur Shultis, head extension economist, farm management, University of California Extension Service at Berkeley, gave members of the Santa Clara Valley Rabbit Federation some interesting facts on commercial rabbit raising recently at the regular monthly meeting, held at the library building in Campbell.

From statistics and figures projected on the screen and in his talk, Professor Shultis brought to the attention of the rabbit industry the lack of an aggressive program. The rabbit breeders in general have failed to improve their herds, put in automatic feeding and watering, and obtain a fair share of the market dollar, when compared to the poultry and other livestock industries, he said. "The main cost of rabbit meat production is labor," he stated, and for rabbit breeders to make money, it will be necessary for them to buckle down and put in labor saving devices."

Later in the meeting, the local boosting New York department store sales in the week ended June 30 to nine per cent above a year ago.

Alice Standardt Succumbs at 77

Alice L. Standardt, native of Sierra County and resident of San Jose for 30 years, died Wednesday, July 4 in a Campbell rest home after a long illness. She was 77 years old.

Mrs. Standardt was the mother of Mrs. Burt Ackerman of Campbell, Harvey Standardt of San Jose and Ella C. Kuster of San Francisco; sister of Ella K. Rohrig of San Jose, and grandmother of Barbara Adcock, James and Stephen Standardt of San Jose and Jean Kuster of San Francisco.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday, July 7, in San Jose. Interment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

federation's president, R. Wayne Bailey, asked for hands from breeders who had automatic watering. Only one hand went up. He then made a general review of the rabbit industry in the county, and the lack of leadership for the last 20 years to bring about profitable commercial operation which is so necessary to promote growth.

The next meeting will be on July 26 and will be a rabbit barbecue. Each member will bring a few rabbits ready for barbecue. Numerous 225 page books of recipes exclusively rabbit cookery will be given away as prizes.

Former Resident Called By Death

Mrs. Grace Husted Miller, former resident of Campbell and sister of Mrs. Herbert M. Shadle and Mrs. Ralph Hyde of Campbell, died in her Los Gatos home Friday after a year's illness. She was 66 at the time of her death.

She was a native of Illinois and came to California at an early age. Her husband, Leon S. Miller, formerly owned a grocery store in Campbell.

Mrs. Miller is survived by her husband and two sisters. Funeral services were held in Los Gatos Monday afternoon and interment was in Madrona Cemetery.

Excessive Local Spending Hit

Property tax dollar in Santa Clara county for 1950-51 was divided 42 cents for school districts, 36 cents for general county purposes, 16 cents for the cities, and 6 cents for special districts, California Taxpayers' association reported today. Total levy for 1950-51 was $19,886,882.

Ten years ago, in 1941-42, the property tax dollar in the county was divided 40 cents for school districts, 38 cents for general purposes, 17 cents for the cities, and 5 cents for special districts. Total property tax levy in 1941-42 in the county was $6,445,346. Statewide the $788,241,231 property tax bill in California for 1950-51 was divided 39 per cent for school districts, 38 per cent for general county purposes, 16 percent for cities, and 7 percent for special districts.

For 1941-42, the statewide $321-734,456 property tax bill was divided 33 per cent for school districts, 39 per cent for general county purposes, 21 percent for cities, and 7 percent for special districts.

"The size of the 1951-52 property tax bill is being fixed by the actions of local governing boards—on school district, county, city and special district budgets being made up right now," the taxpayers' association declared, pointing out that "Now's the time to 'cry Havoc!' and 'let slip the dogs of war' against excessive local government budgets—instead of 'crying' over the size of the tax bill presented to property owners next November."

The average California farm last year produced $16,000 in crops, three times the national average. A real help in making these farms so productive is the widespread use of low-cost electricity. Pumping of irrigation water, for example, averages only 3 1/2% of production costs, increases crop yield 20 times.

So outstanding is the role of electric power in aiding California agriculture that P.G. and E. was judged by Farm Journal Magazine as best in the U.S. "... in promoting farm electrification as a productive force for better farming and better living." You'll be interested in how P.G. and E. brings greater prosperity to the farmer—even if you live in a city—for 40% of the business in California cities depends upon agriculture.

Dale Carnegie

Author of
"HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

DO YOU enjoy making someone else happier? Well, I know the answer to that one. If you make someone else happy, deliberately, you will enjoy the aftermath, as surely as the night follows the day.

Carl P. West of Decatur, Ga., relates an incident that he says was truly tragic, though many might call it a minor happening. He tells of a stenographer with a record of 35 years of faithful service who asked her boss why she didn't get a raise in salary. The younger girls were getting raises regularly with very little effort on their part. She was producing twice the work of any one of them, yet, no increase for her. Why?

Her boss took the easiest way out and said, "We can get anyone off the street at $35 per week to do your work; why pay you more!"

Thirty-five years of faithful service and no one appreciated her efforts, her knowledge of the work. Life for her seemed unbearable

Mr. West was a witness to this unfortunate incident and his sympathy was all for the woman. A few days later he had an urgent job which would have to be done completely over and which it would seem would require a good two days' of time. He went to the above mentioned stenographer with his problem and she suggested a way that would enable them to get the work out within a couple of hours.

Upon completion of the work, he praised the stenographer not only for what she had done but for her service to the company over the years. He pointed out that they would have been lost without her help on this job.

He had no more than got back into his office, when she appeared. She said, "Mr. West, I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for what you said a few minutes ago." Mr. West asked, "Why?" Then added, "I didn't say anything you didn't deserve."

"But," she said, "you gave me all the credit and you praised me in front of my boss. I know after what you said, that he will not only think me worth more, but he will feel that I am more valuable than someone he could call in from the street. You have given me a new lease on life—and I am so happy."

Mr. West says that he was happier, too, for days after that.

Is there someone whose life you can touch as easily, and be happier because you do? Try it.

Proposed City

boundaries for the incorporation of Campbell culminates more than a month's work which included a straw ballot to determine the sentiment of the community toward incorporation, the formation of the Committee for Campbell Incorporation and the formation and preliminary work of the many sub-committees connected with the issue.

The move for incorporation of the city of Campbell came after the introduction in the State Legislature of bills concerning urban unincorporated areas. A bill now passed by the assembly but pending action by the senate, states that urban unincorporated areas having a population density of at least 300 persons per square mile shall be designated as "urban unincorporated areas." The bill further provides that the county board of supervisors must provide municipal services to these areas at the same ratio of cost to inhabitants as residents of incorporated cities.

Residents of the Campbell area, alarmed at the pending legislation, and apprehensive of the strip annexation tactics of Santa Clara and San Jose which threatened to cut portions of the Campbell section of the proposed Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga Municipal Court District and would divide portions of the Campbell School Districts, persuaded L. W. Harmon to issue straw ballots to residents of the area to determine their sentiments on incorporation. Results of the straw vote revealed that residents favored incorporation by a six to one ratio.

Following the straw vote, Harmon was chosen to head the general committee with A. J. "Judge" Emery as campaign manager. Sub-committees were formed and preliminary work was outlined.

The next step in the move toward incorporation will be the completion of more detailed work by other subcommittees whose moves had been limited by the lack of a tentative boundary line.

Members of the boundary committee are Don Reinohl, chairman, Oliver Jensen, Russell Kennedy, Arthur Mayo, Joseph Gomes, Mark Purmort, E. A. Garrison, Herbert M. Shadle and Mrs. Ted Solari.

575 CHILDREN ARE ENROLLED IN SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM HERE

Approximately 575 children of Campbell and the surrounding territory are taking part in the summer recreation program headed by Neal Royer. The program is broken down into four parts, three of which are nearly identical programs held at San Tomas, Campbell, and Moorpark grammar schools. The fourth division of the program deals with swimming instruction under the direction of Mrs. Fred M. Wejak.

Each of the schools is offering a series of classes dealing with art, crafts, movies, folk dancing, and athletic games. Instruction in each school is under the direction of a regular teacher who is assisted by mothers of the children.

Miss Dorothy Wilkinson heads the program at Campbell and has an enrollment of approximately 125 children in classes under her direction. Morning programs are for children from kindergarten through the third grades while afternoon programs are designed for children from the fourth grades through the eighth.

The Moorpark program is under the direction of Mrs. Beatrice Wheeler. Mrs. Wheeler has approximately 115 children enrolled in her classes. Mornings are reserved for the younger children while the older children may participate in the afternoon programs.

Duane Beaubien heads the program at the San Tomas school with approximately 80 students attending the daily programs.

Heading the arts and crafts instruction in the various schools program is Mrs. Thelma Wathen, special instructor for the summer program and regular teacher during school sessions. Under her direction, the children learn free-hand drawing and clay modeling, and in the crafts department, are instructed in woodwork, plastic weaving, and weaving with fabrics and paper. Mrs. Wathen spends two days each week in the Campbell school and one day each week in the San Tomas and the Moorpark schools.

Athletic programs are under the direction of the heads of each school program. The program includes the Twilight softball league for children of the sixth grades and under. In their first game of the league last Monday night, Duane Beaubien's hurlers dumped the youngsters from Campbell by a 22-12 score. The two teams will meet again tonight at the San Tomas fields. Total number of teams entered in the league is expected to reach four by the end of the week. Teams play twice a week at 6:30 p.m. on the various school fields.

In addition to the softball league, the athletic program includes table tennis, darts, volleyball, basketball, and checkers.

Movies are also included in the program daily. Some stress is placed on the educational type movie, but most of the bills are of the recreational type.

Swimming is a separate program in itself, with daily bus loads of children being transported to the Woodrow Wilson school pool. Approximately 250 children are included in the largest phase of the recreation program. Classes under the overall direction of Mrs. Fred M. Wejak are limited to groups of ten children with the children placed in one of the three main divisions which include instruction for beginners, intermediate and advanced swimmers. Parents are invited to accompany their children in the busses to Woodrow Wilson and watch the children.
